PRESENTS THIS

NINETEEN FORTY-SIX

Edition of

MOUNT TEACHERS COLLEGE

For her straight forwardness, her undying loyalty to the students, for her fairness, her sincerity, her high standards, her devotion to the college and for her never-failing sense of humor, the seniors of the class of 1946 gratefully dedicate this annual to ALICE ADELINE BENTON.

cation

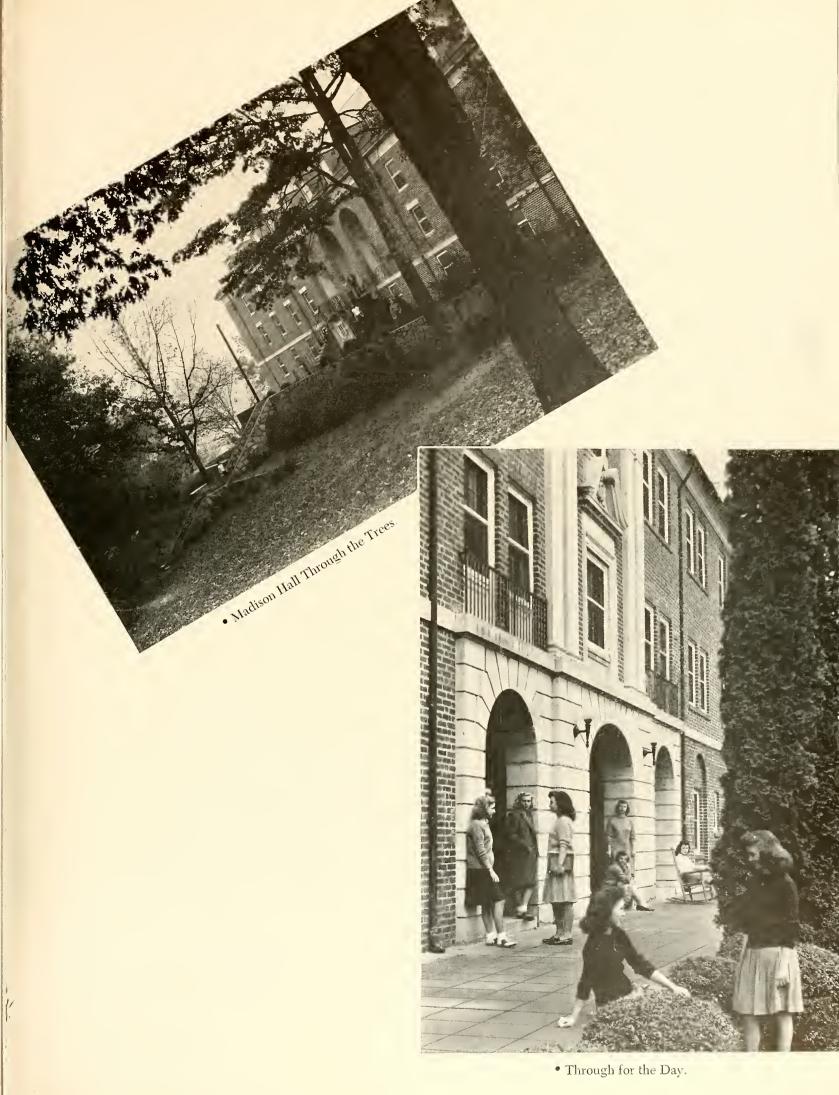

MISS ALICE A. BENTON

OUR PREXY

It is taking no liberties with the truth to assert that Dr. H. T. Hunter is one of the best loved college presidents in the country.

A kindly, genial man, consecrated to the cause of public education and thoroughly in agreement with the ideals and aspirations of youth, Dr. Hunter holds a place in the hearts of his students unique in the realm of college administrative circles. Not one of them but can and often does sit down with him and talk over problems ranging from disciples to finances with perfect ease and the assurance of his sympathetic understanding.

THE LAST LEAVES

Back in 1889 a slender, scholarly young man from Virginia had a dream for these Carolina mountains; and nine "good men and true" had faith in his dream. So Western Carolina Teachers College was born.

Today Robert Lee Madison, president emeritus, and W. C. Norton of his original board of trustees are the last survivors of that far-sighted group who 57 years ago translated a dream into a reality.

Albright

Аѕнвкоок

• MISS ALBRIGHT . . . A teacher as well as an adviser. • DR. ASHBROOK . . . Quite business like when necessary, but he enjoys a joke • MISS BOND . . . A refreshing sense of humor in a reserved manner. • MISS BENTON . . . Our first lady in Physical Education. • DEAN BIRD . . . Chaucer is his specialty. • MR. BROWN . . . He keeps freshmen from blowing up the chemistry lab. • MISS BUCHANAN . . . Even with the library she finds time to teach. • MISS CAMPBELL . . . In the classroom as in the office she is first-rate.

BUCHANAN

BIRD BOND BENTON CAMPBELL

- MISS CAMP . . . Practice teachers look to her for guidance.
- MR. CATHEY . . . Tops in school spirit, he always supports every good cause.

Crum

- MR. CHRISMAN . . . His foreign language classes? Nous les aimons!
- MRS. COWARD . . . Second graders like her and so do practice teach-
- MR. CRUM . . . Quadratic equations and logarithms—math students take notice!

Davis

Deans

Dodson

• MISS DAVIS . . . She teaches us to write our A, B, C's—legibly.

• MR. DEANS . . . Newest addition to the English department. Freshman English is his pet.

MISS GOODMAN . . . Her interest in students reaches far beyond the seventh grade. ● MRS. GULLEY . . . An ear for music and an eye for talent. ● MISS HAMMOND . . . Shorthand in the Business Education Department; girls in Robertson Hall: she handles both gracefully. ● MISS HARTSHORN . . . "Hartsie" belongs to us—she trims football goals and tough exams with equal ability. ● MR. HINDS . . . Back from the Navy to geometry and ealeulus. ● DR. HIUNTER . . . Plato, Socrates—his students enjoy hearing him talk about them. ● MRS. KILLIAN . . . Poise, resourcefulness, versatility. ● DR. KILLIAN . . . Jokes on himself, cigars, applied psychology.

Remember how green we were during the fall of '42? Through those weeks of homesickness, lost classes in the CB, and finding our way around in Cullowhee, we were led by our class sponsor. Mr. Seymour, and John Wellman, class president. Then came the year of "in between." Fall of '43 found us neither upper-classmen or freshmen. We were confident in ourselves, however, when it came to dealing with the freshmen. The third year feature was the Senior Banquet. which we financed by sponsoring a square dance. This was the first banquet since the beginning of the war. Now we are Seniors with the world in our hands! With June comes graduation. And with graduation come newer and bigger fields of opportunity.

THREE UP AND ONE TO GO

We aren't dignified because we aren't Seniors. We have forgotten the sophistication we knew as learned Sophomores. To prove it we frolicked with ghosts and goblins on Halloween and climaxed the big event by crowning the king and queen of Harvest. The Seniors, we sent out into the world with the traditional banquet . . .

• Dr. Hunter crowns the harvest king and queen.

CLIMBING UPWARD

We're just the usual run of Sophomores, ripe enough to tell the Freshmen off. "Pee Wee" Hamilton pulled us through our first year as president but left the job to Bill Flack for our second season at Cullowhee. Now we're really on the uphill grind. We've danced, gone picnicing, hiked, and occasionally studied. "Cherry" was Harvest Queen, remember? As Sophomores we've had bigger and better times, hardly realizing that half of our college life is gone. Hail to the '46-'47 Junior class, 'cause we're IT!

The Department of Health and Physical Education recognizes four major areas of responsibility. Based upon careful study of individual, sectional, and national needs, desirable programs are developed in each field. Because of the close cooperation, under one department, between these areas, it is possible to cause each of them to contribute valuable help to every other phase of the program. The four major divisions are Health Service and Health Education, General Service Courses, Intramural and Women's Athletics, and Professional Courses.

Each student is required to take a course in personal hygiene and must take an activity course in physical education every quarter of attendance in the college. These are basic elements in the process of social adjustment.

Ath

A wide variety of athletic activities is a part of the organized athletics within this phase of the program. Sports are selected to satisfy the needs and demand of all students. Intramurals have been a training ground for sportsmanship, cooperation, and skills.

A carefully selected sequence of required courses, liberally supplemented with electives, prepares the major or minor student in health and physical education to go into the public schools and successfully handle almost any phase of the work in this field.

Inter-collegiate sports are an independent phase of physical education recognized for the development of a minority group as specialized athletes, and noted for the promotion of school spirit and unity.

The Catamount Staff

With the writing of this, another Catamount goes to press—the biggest annual in the history of the college. With the ending of the war and a let-up in restrictions on paper and printing came improvements in the annual—more pages, larger pages, color pictures, and what-have-you. It has been a lot of work and a lot of fun. Under the able sponsorship of Miss Watson and Mr. Cathey we have completed our job. We just hope you like our book as much as we enjoyed getting getting it out!

The Western Carolinian is published every three weeks by the Robert Latham Journalism Club, a student organization financed by the student body. For the first time in nearly six years a boy is scrving as Editor-in-Chief. The members of the staff are either members of the course in journalism or have had it. The class meets twice each week for formal training in the principles of journalism and once each week as a staff for publishing the paper.

The Western Carolinian is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press of the School of Journalism, University of Minnesota. One of the privileges this membership carries is having the publication scored in comparison with other collegiate publications.

Throughout the war copies of the Western Carolinian have gone to every corner of the globe following Western Carolina's fighting men and keeping them in touch with their Alma Mater.

The Student Scnate, governing body of the Student Assembly, is an organization whose primary purpose is to direct the lines of all members of the cooperative Student Faculty Government. Completely representative, the Senate draws members from each of the classes, from the Men's House Government, Women's House Government, and Day Student Council. The Senate, through committees appointed by the student president, drafts each year all necessary general regulations concerning conduct and prints them in the Handbook.

During the year the Senate sponsors a Religious Emphasis Week, a May Day program and a drive for at least one charitable cause. Through an appropriations committee the Senate sets aside funds for various campus organizations.

Alpha Phi Sigma

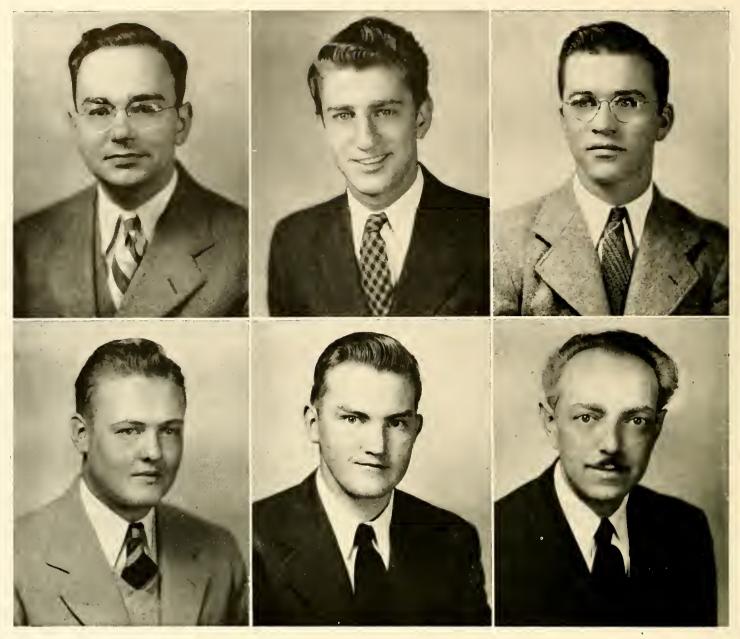

The Zeta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma was organized in 1931. It is a national honorary scholastic fraternity and is one of our campus organizations which has as its purpose to instill within the members a love for learning by association with others who have won high scholastic honors and who shall strive continually to maintain them. One of our aims is to assist in disciplinary problems by the establishment and practice of a high standard of morals and ethics.

The Men's House Government Association is an organization which has as its paramount purpose the regulation of the dormitory life of resident men students. L. H. Halliburton, who is this year serving his second term as president, has effected a number of innovations which have served to make the lives of the men students more meaningful.

Within the past two years Men's House Government has begun a Lounge in Madison Hall and has sponsored several successful social functions. The men students now, as always, give their first loyalty to this very important unit of the Co-operative Student-Faculty Government.

Day Student Organization

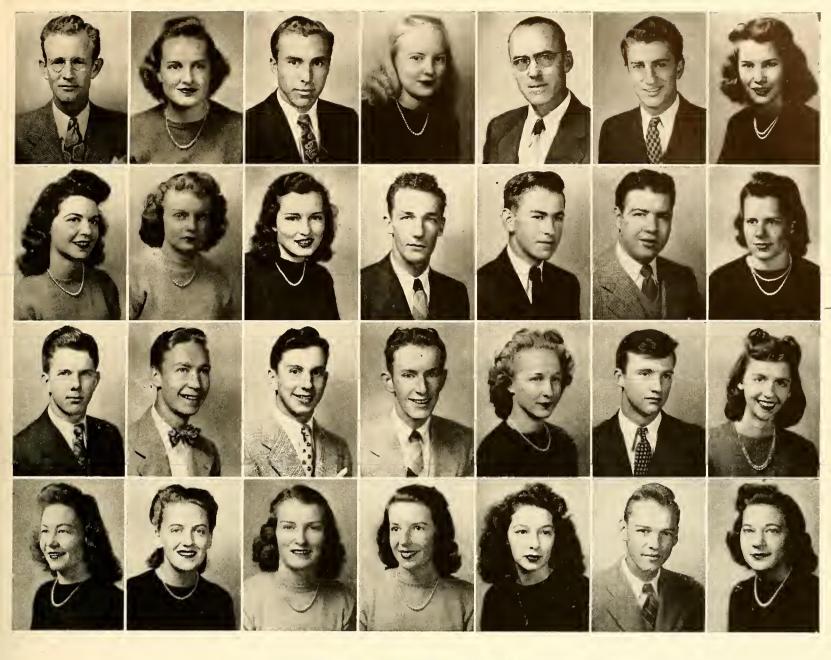

The Day Student Organization, under the sponsorship of Miss Charlotte Watson, is a part of the Student-Faculty Government. It is made up of all students attending college who do not live in the dormitories.

The purpose of this government is to promote eloser unity and ecoperation of its members and to improve their social and moral welfare.

One of the major responsibilities of the Day Students is to sponsor the May Day Danee. Plans are being made in hopes that this year's danee may compensate for the past two years when we were unable to have one.

Marshals' Club

The Marshals' Club, organized in 1939, has as its primary purpose the furnishing of marshals and ushers for all public programs at Western Carolina Teachers College. The Marshals' Club is the only club on the campus which has an elective membership of thirty students. This fact, among others, creates greater interest in the club and causes outsiders to consider it a particular honor to be a member.

The Marshals' Club is not, however, purely social although the social life is emphasized. Each year this club undertakes some problem or project the solution or completion of which will help in maintaining a well-rounded collegiate community.

Mr. A. K. Hinds, originator and sponsor of the club, we sincerely welcome back after serving in the United States Navy. And to Dr. W. A. Ashbrook, who has been our sponsor the past two years, we give our warmest appreciation and thanks for his guidance and sponsorship to the club.

The Future Teachers of America, an outgrowth of the Horace Mann Centennial in 1937, represents a constructive plan of the National Education Association, to meet the needs for training young people in the teaching profession. The local chapter of W. C. T. C. was organized in 1940. The club renders service to the college by bringing outside speakers to the campus, by encouraging all who are preparing to become teachers, and by recruiting candidates for the teaching profession.

Alpha Psi Omega

Alpha Psi Omega is a national honorary dramatics fraternity with two hundred and six chapters located at colleges and universities throughout the United States. The Theta Iota chapter at this institution was organized June 3, 1941, with eleven charter members. Now the roster has grown to thirty-six names.

Membership in Alpha Psi Omega is granted when the candidate meets certain requirements set up by the grand cast. These requirements have to do with acting and producing plays on the college level.

On this campus Alpha Psi Omega is an inner sanctum, a sort of holy-of-holies, of the Western Carolina Players.

Helen Bird is director of the Theta lota chapter and Emogene Eddins is business manager. Miss Helen Hartshorn and Lee Miller are graduate members on the campus.

Believing that, though it is good to know "who's who" in any subject, it is better to know "what's what;" a group of students organized the Western Carolina Art Club in 1945.

Knowing that it is the practical side of art that requires more emphasis, this club realizes that we need to put more effort into translating art into the daily life of the people. This it tries to do on the campus of Western Carolina Teachers College.

The Youth Fellowship is a religious organization sponsored by the Methodist Church and composed of students of all denominations. The purpose of this club is to provide Christian training, fellowship, recreation, and an opportunity to serve others. The members are divided into four commissions which strive to fulfill the purposes of the club under the direction of the sponsor.

The Wesley Club is a Methodist organization for girls which welcomes students of any denomination who wish to attend. A meeting is held each month, at which a devotional program is presented, business is discussed, and a social hour is enjoyed. The plans for the club for this year were a visit to the County Home, a program sponsored for the W. S. C. S., work in the Negro church, group interest in related books during Religious Emphasis Week, and a study of the churches of other lands to create interest in and sympathy for all nations.

We have twenty-five charter members. Our aim is "to promote better homemakers of America." We named it The Homecon and chose as our motto, "Let strength and honour be our clothing and our candle go not out by night."

In our club we selected for our programs the following subjects which deal with home economics: Dress Design for the Individual Planning, Preparing and Serving Well-Balanced Meals Attractively, Table Service and Decoration, Interior Decoration of the Home, Problems in Household Economics, and Personal Hygiene.

We are confident that our club will greatly enhance the atmosphere of our college life while on the campus and will influence us in later years.

The Band

OFFICERS

Western Carolina's band was a war casualty along with athletics and for the same reason—its personnel went to war. For two years the remnants of the band and the orchestra were combined into one organization, but most emphasis was on the orchestral side.

This year, however, the band is having a renaissance. It began with the employment of Nelson O. Schreiber, Harvey, Illinois, as director, an experienced band and orchestra man and a talented musician, himself a veteran of the war.

A highly specialized group like a band doesn't spring into being overnight, but the members are doing hard, conscientious work in rehearsals, interest is high, and prospects for an outstanding organization another year are bright.

During the 1945-46 school year the musicians gave several programs in chapel, an Easter concert, played for two Western Carolina Players productions, and participated in the commencement activities. The annual Christmas concert was cancelled because of the flu epidemic and premature Christmas holidays.

The students hear Dr. Hunter.

The endless task.

Baptist Choir.

"Accept our thanks . . ."

A most popular place around seven. Here is where we check them out.

A pleasant place where friends meet.

Mr. White and his music students.

- 1. 2. 3. Precious cargo.
- News from home. Week-end paradise.
- Rain, sleet, or snow come what may—we are prepared.

- "Vets."
 Still loafing.
 Monkey up a tree.
 Is this Socrates?
 Off to the cleaners.
 And still more tricks.

- Huba-huba.
 Just a bunch of tadpoles.
 Hold it!
 Serenity in the mountains.
 The pride of Candler.

- 6. "Our Mary."
 7. Watch the birdie.
 8. "Pop."
 9. Last but not least the . . .
